USTDA'S MISSION AND TOOLS

The U.S. Trade and Development Agency connects America's private sector to infrastructure projects in developing and middle-income countries. We achieve success by funding feasibility studies, technical assistance and pilot projects that integrate the innovation and expertise of American companies. USTDA also connects overseas buyers with U.S. sellers by hosting reverse trade missions, industry conferences and expert workshops across the globe.

Proven Results For Washington, DC Businesses

A DC-based company was commissioned to develop a geothermal investment database to coordinate critical public and private investments in Indonesia's geothermal sector as a result of a USTDA-funded reverse trade mission.

A DC-based smart grid company supplied equipment for microgrid development in Haiti following a USTDA-funded feasibility study, supporting the country's goal to eradicate energy poverty.
