USTDA'S MISSION AND TOOLS

The U.S. Trade and Development Agency connects America's private sector to infrastructure projects in developing and middle-income countries. We achieve success by funding feasibility studies, technical assistance and pilot projects that integrate the innovation and expertise of American companies. USTDA also connects overseas buyers with U.S. sellers by hosting reverse trade missions, industry conferences and expert workshops across the globe.

Proven Results For Maine Businesses

A Maine company sold weather monitoring equipment to the government of the Philippines following a USTDA-funded study aimed at upgrading meteorological telecommunications systems.

A Portland-based law firm was hired to provide legal services for power plant financing in Jordan after participating in a USTDA-funded regional training project, which raised the law firm's profile throughout the Middle East.
