USTDA'S MISSION AND TOOLS

The U.S. Trade and Development Agency connects America's private sector to infrastructure projects in developing and middle-income countries. We achieve success by funding feasibility studies, technical assistance and pilot projects that integrate the innovation and expertise of American companies. USTDA also connects overseas buyers with U.S. sellers by hosting reverse trade missions, industry conferences and expert workshops across the globe.

Proven Results For Massachusetts Businesses

A Massachusetts-based company won a contract to supply security scanner systems that are currently in trial at three airports in the Philippines following USTDA-funded technical assistance.

Beverly-based small business Seaborn Networks exported development and build services for the New York –São Paulo subsea fiber optic cable project following a USTDA-funded reverse trade mission.
